with the beginning."

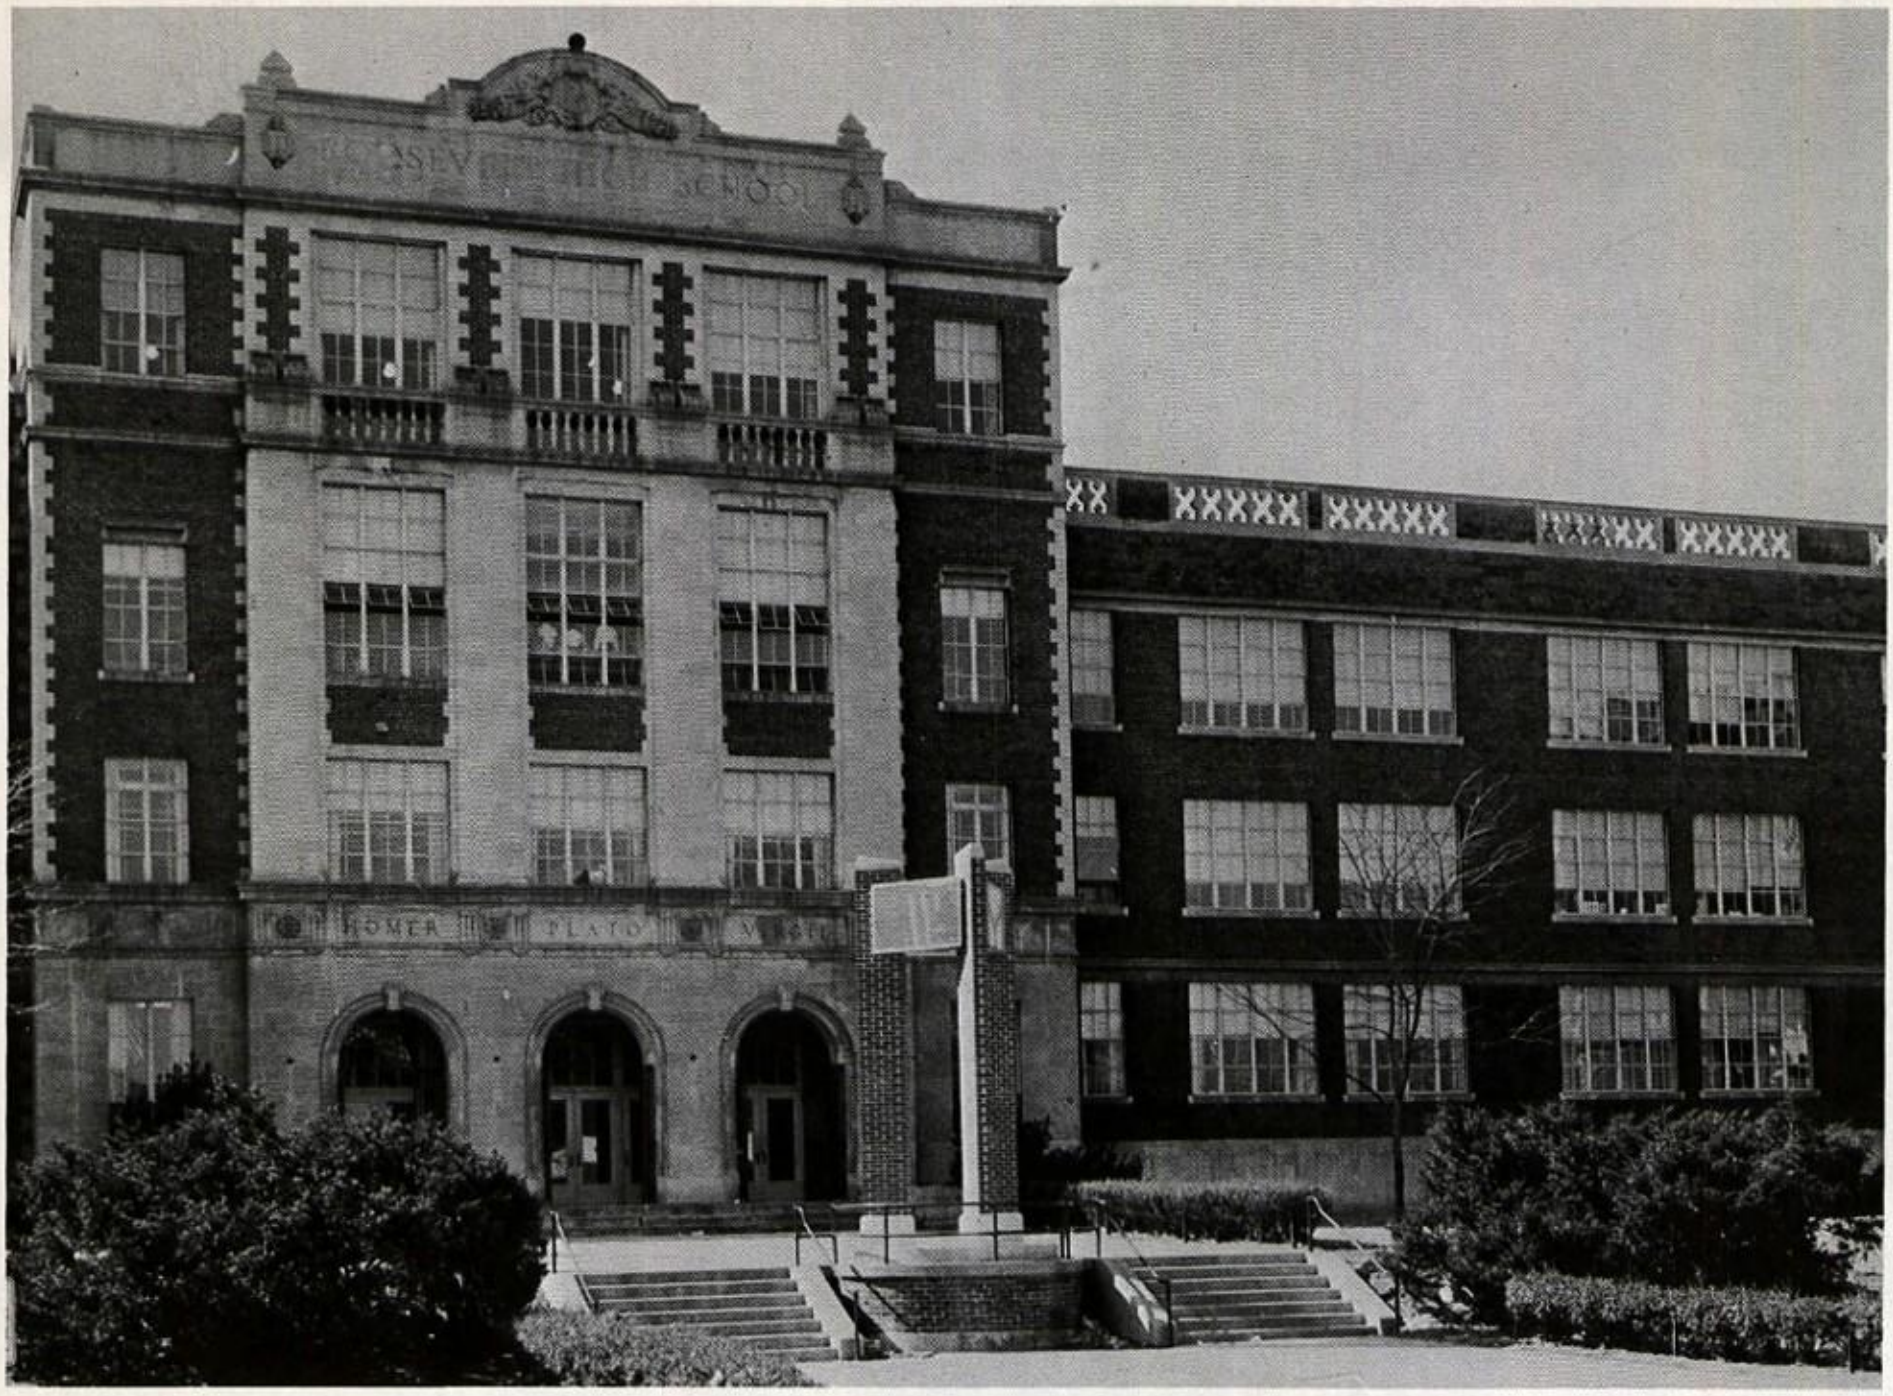
Teddy Memory Annual

Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Eight

Theodore Roosevelt High School

Dayton, Ohio



Roosevelt Alma Mater

O hear our song of praise
dear Roosevelt:
A song of loyality and love.
Thy name a joy and inspiration
Is fairer than the stars above.
The hours spent in thy massive structure
Yield mem'ries ever fond and true,
Of Friendships, honors, and endeavors
That prove to us thy worth anew.
Hail to our colors red and white
Ro-osevelt.
We'll fight with all our might.
And guard thee day and night.
And strive through darkness into light
To protect thy every right.
Roosevelt! Roosevelt!

Graduating Students of the Class of 1968

It is a real delight to me to congratulate the graduating class of 1968 because I feel this has been a most significant class from the point of service and a truly innate interest, backed by action, in Roosevelt. This class has distinguished itself by its courage in action with the bond issue.

I can see a fine future for all of the members of this class because of their ability to stand by their convictions and to meet problems face to face. The spirit of cooperation and dedication to the task at hand has been an earmark of the class of '68.

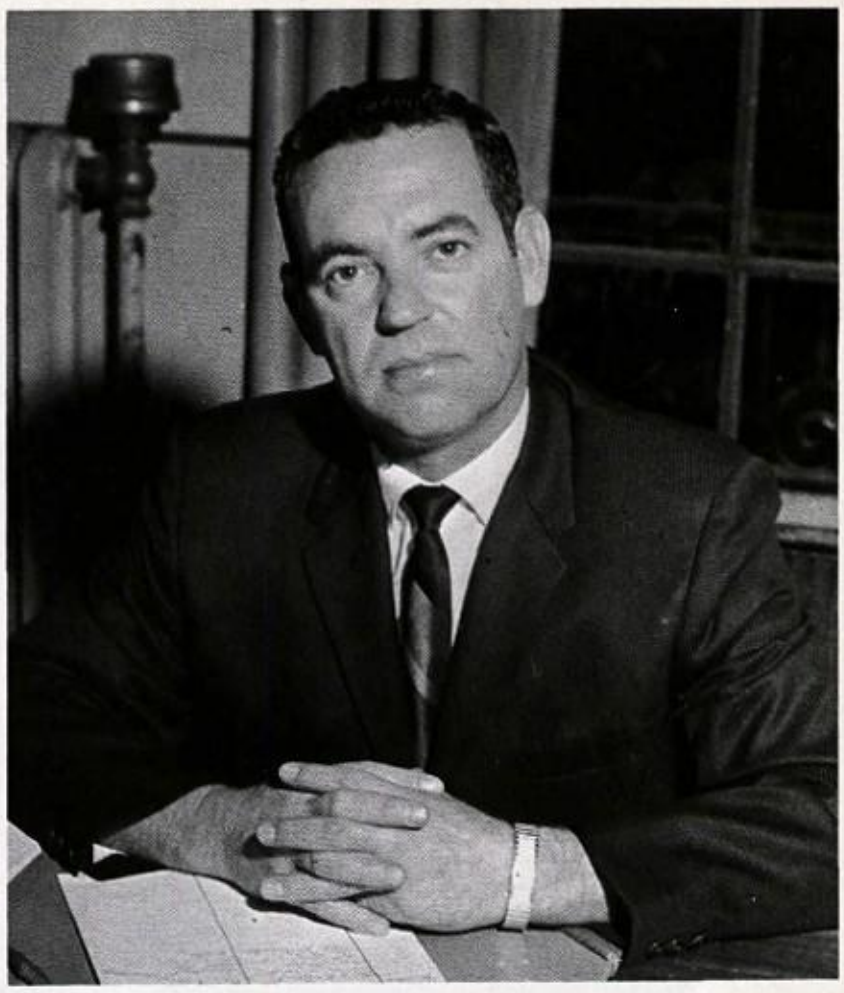
I would encgurage each member to "run a good race" in reaching for the good things of life and recognize that our relationships with others are probably the most important factor in a happy, productive life. I wish you all well.

Graduates, in this glorious hour, I salute thee. Truly, high school days swiftly pass. It seems only yesterday that you, as awe-struck freshmen, entered these Roosevelt halls steeped as they are in noble and cherished traditions. All of your teachers have followed your progress with patient interest as you shaped your successes and your achievements. By the same token with understanding hearts, we have sympathized with whatever have been your misfortunes and you shortcomings. Now, friends, you are about to reach man's and woman's estate. I sincerely hope you have not only grown stalwart in body but also strong in self-conviction and determination. Enter the broadening horizons of your lives with dignity, with perseverance, with courage, and with understanding.

Class of 1968, hail and farewell. May God bless and keep you.

W. R. CUMMINGS, Assistant Principal

MRS. JEAN BOOKER
Assistant Principal



MR. FLOYD NORMAN
Assistant Principal

To each member of the class of 1968, I extend my congratulations and best wishes.

During your four years at Roosevelt, you have had many opportunities for enlightenment, enrichment, personal growth and service to others. In the years ahead the demands on each of you as individuals will be both many and great.

You are important and needed. You can make a difference where you are by the quality of your relationship to others and the way you tackle each responsibility and task which confronts you. Today, individuals are needed who care - who care about themselves and about each other in family and community; individuals who are trying to do their best where they are.

I sincerely hope that these years at Roosevelt will have served to spur you on to further learning opportunities. May you never stop learning and growing. I would ask that each of you strive to be a person of excellence with a wide view of life, with curiosity to look below the surface, with self discipline, enthusiasm, energy and courage. May you be responsible men and women.

In the words of Dag Hammarskjold; "Do what you can and the task will rest lightly in your hand, so lightly that you will be able to look forward to the more difficult tests which may be awaiting you."

Class History, 1968

In September of 1964, we, as confused and awestruct freshmen, took our first steps into the unfamiliar world that this "massive structure" presented to us. This was quite a transition. Several months previous to this, we had been the leaders of our respective schools; and this plummeting to the very bottom, for the most of us, was very surprising.

Unfortunately, we had been forewarned of the seemingly devious occurences at Roosevelt by many of those who had considered themselves authorities on such matters. We had been told of Mr. Holmbo's calm captivity, Mr. Cummings' tyranny, Mrs. Booker's motherly austerity, and Mr. Caldwell's sixth-period hall patrols.

We remember the many incidents of which we had been told, some of which were very true, but others mere exaggeration of fact. We all remember our mental maturity tests, which lasted one-half day, and all the other tests we were required to take. Many of us discovered that we were the first class of freshmen to be introduced to what was then called "modern" Algebra. All of us continued our elementary school interests whether academic, athletic, or social--all, of course, were factors of a well-rounded high school student.

"Three yards and a cloud of dust" symbolized the success of our freshman football team as it "wrapped-up" the City Championship. Cinders flew as our freshman relay team streaked to glory winning this championship also.

While many of us flexed our muscles, others were hard at work in different ways. Victoria Champ, Pearl Davis, Karen Gaskins, Ronnie Morrison, and Margaret Oldham were inducted into Ursa Chapter of the National Junior Honor Society.

Those who aspired to the writing profession were also given noteworthy acclaim. Anthony Alford and Ronnie Morrison were published poets of the National High School Poetry Anthology, Young America Sings.

A privileged few of us received the highest honor our school could bestow--the coveted Theodore. This golden statuette represented the person who was the best student in a certain subject area. Everyone awaited with great anticipation to see who would receive these trophies. At the assembly's end, Pearl Davis had received the Theodore in Math I; Karen Gaskins, French I; Ronnie Morrison, English I; and Henri Etta Wallace, Spelling I.

We had a feeling of pride at the end of our freshman year; for, now, we had established ourselves as an integral part of this long-trodden majestic campus. We thought that we were going to begin our sophomore year with all problems solved. However, we soon discovered that the life of a sophomore was much more than what we had bargained. Our concepts of one another increased as we were pitted against other classes in school activities.

Continuing our accomplishments in sports, we brought home the first City Championship in fencing in the history of Roosevelt. For their outstanding display of athletic supremacy on the gridiron, James Howard and Ed Jones were awarded letters. Also that year, the Red and White hoopsters brought us the City Championship. Charles Howard was the only sophomore on the team--and the only sophomore since then to make the Varsity team.

Again, academics made its showing with another Ursa induction. Three others joined those honorable ranks--Robert Early, Shelia Hardin, and Haver Philips. The Theodore assembly was also soon at hand, and few others were awarded this cherishable gift. They were Grady Baccus, World History; Pearl Davis, Latin II and Math II; James Howard, Physical Education II; Sandra Scott, English II and Home Economics II; James Vontress, German II; and Andrea Walker, Spanish II.

We began branching out on a more individual basis. Anthony Alford served as the Roosevelt representative to Youth Government Day. Ronnie Morrison and James Vontress were chosen by their counselors to attend the Yale Alumni Meeting in downtown Dayton. Several persons showed their talents with words by having both poems and essays accepted by the National High School Poetry Anthology, Young America Sings. They were Anthony Alford, Laura Cross, Pearl Davis, Cynthia Nicholson, Margaret Oldham, Dayle Pearson, Garry Prichett, Sandra Scott, Henri Etta Wallace, and Shirley Wood. Essays were accepted by the National High School Essay Anthology, Young America Speaks. The authors were Anthony Alford, Robert Early, Linda Peavy, Dayle Pearson, and James Vontress.

The end of our sophomore year marked the beginning of a new program--Upward Bound. Our class was the first to participate in this program. Each member was chosen in order to help further his interest in going to college. As a result, several choice Teddies spent eight fun-filled and educationally-rewarding weeks at Earlham College and Central State University. It marked a wonderful end to an eventful year!

The year of grand and official organization was at hand. The junior year started out slowly--but once started, we took giant steps forward. After much guessing, speculating, and hoping, we were finally introduced to our class advisors, Mrs. Alberta Minor and Mr. Raleigh Christian. Then, there was our grand election. Signs were everywhere! Tensions were at an all-time high. After many excellent speeches had been delivered; and after the votes had been tallied, the results were Philip Bass, President; Robert Early, Vice-President; Mary Pearson, Recording Secretary; Shirley Wood, Corresponding Secretary; Marcia Taylor, Treasurer; and Samuel Freeman, Sergeant-At-Arms.

Class dues were paid, and we were then to begin our class activities. Our Holiday Dinner Dance was held at Wampler's Silver Arena and was proclaimed the most fabulous affiar by all who attended. Other class social activities included numerous dances, skating parties, and a very fun-filled Fun Night.

In athletics, our football team won second place in the City; and at one time, ranked as third in the nation. Not to be outdone by our stupendous gridders, our basket ball boys claimed their share of the laurels by capturing the City Championship.

With gleaming foils flying, our fencing team again won the City Championship with Samuel Freeman the star fencer, placing first in the City. Our track team won the City Championship and went on to achieve sixth place in the State.

Again, we exemplified our versatility on a more individual basis. Anthony Alford received the American Citizenship Award and served as Roosevelt's United Appeal Representative. Philip Bass, our Class President, proved his superiority in the writing world by having his poem accepted by the Poet's Round Table; and, as a result, he was asked to appear on a local television program. Judith Clark and Patricia Crawford were chosen as representatives from Roosevelt to the Junior Chapter Administrative Management Society. Ronnie Morrison was chosen to represent Roosevelt in the Honor Seminars of Greater Dayton at the University of Dayton. Ronnie also was recipient of the Dayton Jaycees Youth Leadership Award. Haver Phillips was a delegate to the National Graphic Arts Convention. James Vontress won laurels by serving as contestant in the I.B.P.O.E. speech contest. Awards were received by Emma Wright for her superiority in Bookkeeping, by Linda Peavy who placed first in Shorthand I; Diane Brown, placing second in Shorthand I and third in Typing I; Carolyn Baker, placing third in Shorthand I; Shelia Hardin, placing first in Typing I; and Sherilyn Hawkins, placing second in Typing I. Larry Washington received honors for his model home which was featured at the Dayton Home Show.

Socially, we were at our best when the Junior-Senior Prom time came around. Our Class Motto was "Look forward, not back!" Our class colors were green and gold, and our class flower was the "yellow rose." It was truly a fabulous affair, thus living up to its theme, "Magic Moments." The Prom was held at the Sheraton-Dayton Hotel with music by the Imperials.

However, the true purpose of attending school is to obtain the best education possible. Education is of four distinct qualities: scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and service. Upon these four pinnacles are based the requirements for acceptance into our Laurus Chapter of the National Honor Society. Finally, on the day of induction six were accepted--Pearl Davis (Treasurer), Robert Early, Karen Gaskins (Secretary), Ronnie Morrison, Gerald Powell (Vice-President), and James Vontress (President).

At the completion of the Theodore Assembly, four juniors left the auditorium carrying the fruits of scholarly victory--Eva Ferrell, Journalism I; Terisa Flemister, Home Economics III; Wanda Harris, Spanish II; and James Vontress, English III.

Our class picnic at John Bryan Park was a welcomed event before the summer break. Everyone enjoyed himself, and class spirit was at its highest.

Class Day marked the end of an active year. But as always, we proved ourselves still masters of all situations by not only giving our own skit, but also by playing a major role in the senior skit.

Our third year at Roosevelt was really a most enjoyable and memorable one.

To our amazement, senior year had arrived. For the first few days, we stalked the halls as proud majestic lions--kings and queens of our school. We were the epitome of all else. Our same class officers from the junior year were reelected; yet, we had a new class advisor, Mr. Benjamin Lindsey, who readily filled the position left open by our new Athletic Department Head, Mr. Raleigh Christian.

The beginning of our last year at "dear old Roosevelt High" also brought many innovations. Faculty-wise, we gained a new assistant principal, Mr. Floyd Norman, and a new counselor, Mrs. Emiley Isaac.

Two new Student Council advisors, Mrs. Dorothy Bush and Mr. Melvyn Stockton, sparked off a new school spirit. The newly elected Student Council officers were President, Ronnie Morrison; Vice-President, Henri Etta Wallace; Recording Secretary, Shelia Hardin; Corresponding Secretary, Karen Gaskins; Treasurer, Laura Cross; and Sergeant-At-Arms, Anthony Alford.

The new, thriving organization boosted school spirit, pride, and loyalty. Probably the reason for all of Roosevelt's new change was the result of our high spirits for the bond issue. Many seniors took part in this "flyer-passing" campaign headed by the Student Council. The Student Council did a great job with our Homecoming Queen assembly. This year's Queen was Pamela Patton, and her senior attendants were Brenda Campbell and Johnnie Vaughn.

As a class, we engaged in our many activities--skating parties, selling projects, fun-night, bowling league, dances. The Senior Dinner Dance was a most memorable occasion and was held at the Sheraton-Dayton Hotel. The attire was semi-formal, and the music was by the Imperials.

Many groups served our class throughout our four years. One, of which, was the 1968 Yearbook Staff consisting of twenty-three students: James Vontress, Editor-in-Chief, Diane Brown, Judith Clark, Patricia Crawford, Daria Dillard, Horace Dozier, Eva Ferrell, Terry Harris, Betty Hooks, Roma Little, Pamela Murray, Margaret Oldham, Linda Peavy, Stephannie Phelps, Gerald Powell, Garry Prichett, Sandra Scott, Michal Stephens, Michael Watts, Patricia White, Clarence Willis, Frances Young, and Joyce Young.

Some of us made additional scholastic news--Pearl Davis, Karen Gaskins, Ronnie Morrison, and Sandra Scott were commended students in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Deborah Sims placed third in a national bake-off sponsored by The Dayton Power and Light Company. James Vontress was chosen as a finalist to attend the Youth Conference on the atom in Chicago, Illinois. He was the only student from the Dayton-proper area to be considered for this high honor.

In football, we achieved respectable standing in the City--James Howard and John Allen making All-City. Our cross country team lead in victory by sprinter Roger Smith and Gary Walker won the City Championship, while the fencing team matched this by winning its third straight City Championship. Charles Adams, Samuel Freeman, Patrick Hughes, and Janice James were primarily responsible for this victory. Our wrestling team made its stupendous comeback as it recaptured the City title. Outstanding matmen Grady Baccus, Lawson Crutcher, Ernest Flowers, Edward George, William Goldsmith, James Howard, and Garry Pritchett were all inspired by their Wrestling Queen Deborah Sims. Our basketball team also achieved some fame with Charles Howard and Roger Bryant being the outstanding senior hoopsters.

The Class of 1968 has proven itself in many areas. It has been recognized as the class with the most "first's" in the history of Roosevelt. It has had its "ups and downs," but it has always withstood the trials of growing.

We have spent many golden moments at Roosevelt; and though we must leave her cherished walls of knowledge and experience, we shall strive our utmost to respectfully represent her by our thoughts, words, and deeds. For our tasks are "not finished, just beginning."

Class Song 1968

(Tune: "To Sir---With Love")

Those good old days of telling tales and dodging bells are gone, But in our Hearts, we know they will still live on and on. But how do you leave your friends and all the fun and joy we have shared? It isn't easy, but we'll try. We've had dances and picnics; we have had such a ball---Now our future calls---The world is ours!

The time has come, for closing books and bidding teachers farewell, And as we leave, we know that we are leaving a school that is swell, A school that we have come to love, a school where many good things we have learned. What! What can we give you in return? It is hard to believe that our four years here are through, Roosevelt we'll miss you---To Roosevelt,---With love ...

Those fun filled years have hurried by! Why did they fly away? Class of "68", we always knew that we would leave one day. What took the place of freshman fears? And looking forward to our sophomore year. Oh, how the years have gone so fast! We have weathered the course, we have tried to do our very best, To the junior class we leave the rest! From "68"---with love!

— Shirley Ann Wood

Class Poem
1968

Roosevelt, farewell, as we take our last walk,
Good-bye, to one and all.
We dare not erase all the things
we have learned,
We'll hold our heads high and stand tall.

Together we've traveled a very rough road,
And regretfully the end is here.
Through honors and failures,
we all have trod,
But we'll continue our lives
without fear.

Consider the past when planning
your future,
Think long, hard, and clear.
Remember the errors and mistakes you've made,
And evaluate your goals from there.

That last lingering glance we hesitantly take,
Of the halls we so long have filled.
No more, shall we hustle and bustle about,
No more, shall we have that great thrill!

So, weep not classmates for chances gone away!
See what the future holds!
We are not ending but beginning
a job,
So walk forward, be brave, and be bold!

—Deborah Sims

Farewell Song
1968

(Tune: "Somewhere")

There's a place for us,
Somewhere a job for us,
All we have to do is use the source from our high school course.

Good times, bad times too, after we leave our school.
We will try not to close our eyes,
we will fight, with our might.
To be, something that we can be proud of,
Somewhere, you might hear about us,
somewhere!

Now we start our road,
Yes, now we have to go,
Twelve years ending, some more to start,
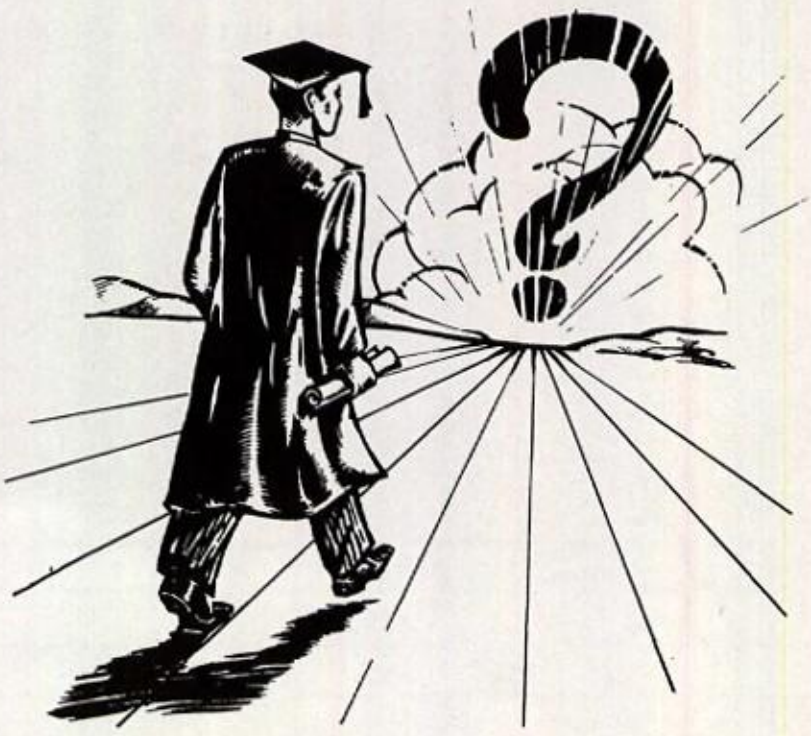
Teachers--we thank you from our heart!
We'll be,
Someone!
Somewhere!

—Daria Dillard



Class Prophecy — 1978

Ten years have passed and the Class of '68 reunites for old acquaintances. Many have succeeded, many have multiplied, and many have failed. All in all, we must meet again and this is what we see ...

GWEN COLEMAN, "the girl with the strawberry curl", just completed her work at the convent, and nor proudly holds the title of "The Flying Nun".

DEBBY COLQUIT and GWEN JACKSON have opened a footwear shop together, specializing in knee socks and tennis shoes!

RONNIE FERGUSON (the youngman who tried so hard to get a laugh) has taken over the old "Uncle Orrie" show!

When buying flowers, remember LARRY FLOWER'S Florist Shoppe and his main competitor BRENDA BUGGS.

BRENDA HARRIS, (the girl who always had the giggles) is still giggling; but her straight jacket makes it difficult.

WARREN "RAP" JOHNSON operates a steam shovel and wants to know if you can dig it!

CHARLEY MABRY, the bank teller, has just written his first novel How to Get Rich Over Night.

BRENDA MARCH has just had her twelfth child. They are better known about the community as "The Dirty Dozen".

MELVIN McCOY and JESSIE CHIVERS, claim to be great lovers. They are now serving ten years at the state "pen" as being "The Kissing Bandits"!

RILEY MOORE, president of Dunhill's, Inc., has published a book entitled Rags to Riches in Ninety Days.

GREG NASH has graduated from Levis to corduroy slacks.

No one can say that CYNTHIA NICHOLSON turned out to be a nobody. Her glamorous figure can be seen throughout the nation. You guessed it--hers are the fingers that do the walking through the yellow pages!

"SHEPPY" PETTIGREW, '68's great skater, now performs weekly on Roller Derby.

SHARON PRICE, who was often caught looking at herself, still sings her favorite tune "Mirror, Mirror On the Wall".

Remember JUDY SNOWDEN and how she was always late? Well, she finally learned to be on time, she's now assistant manager of Westclox Incorporated.

No kidding! DEBORAH SIMS and LINDA GRAHAM ARE Go-Go girls at the Cub Scout Clubhouse!

Here comes --- there goes DOUG THOMPSON, the Temptations equipment man.

"Pigmeat" Markham and Moms Mabley have been replaced by MICHEAL WATTS and EARLENE YOUNG.

ALFRED WEBB is finally the Don Juan he's always aspired to be.

LLOYD YOUNG finally learned how to "step". He attended evening classes at DOUG WALKER'S School of Dance.

—Eva Ferrell and Earlene Young

Remember '68

We are now living in a time of immense historical significance. In years yet to come, this year, 1968, may bring many things to mind. It is the purpose of our Teddy Memory Annual to represent each senior's most cherishable memories. Therefore, it was felt that all might desire to remember what was making history the year they were graduated from high school.

Firstly, The American Negro was at that time making greater headway into professions of more honorable standing. Many had achieved governorships, cabinet appointments, and other positions of great political esteem. The Afro-American was then being noted more for his abilities and was being given more opportunities.

In the world of science, one might recall that heart-transplant surgery was in its toddling stage and that a living virus had been first developed ever--here in the United States.

Politically, his belief on the war in Vietnam was the albatross of our President Lyndon B. Johnson. His measures in handling the war were the constant target of other great world powers and also of the world's clergy.

The Hippies, descendants of the earlier "beatniks" and "bohemians," were in constant opposition to the war in Vietnam. Their many protest marches served as an inspiration to all American youths to exercise their rights as citizens. They may be remembered, however, in a more deplorable sense. They were often associated with LSD, STP, FDA, and other hallucinatory drugs which were proven to be the cause for many deformed babies.

The population explosion, birth control, water and air pollution, cigarette-induced lung cancer, heart disease, and the clean-water shortage were also crises of our senior year but were of lesser notariety.

These were the major world happenings of the year 1968. As you read this approximately twenty years from now, all of these things may seem very minute. However, with much hope and an equal amount of diligent work, by then, greater things may have been accomplished. Maybe all earth will have adopted the "love" philosophy of the Hippies. Perhaps through this, the many peoples of this great globe of ours may have eventually found peace; and, as a result, may have had time to discover solutions to the many problems which faced them. Hopefully, we, the future generation, will help discover these answers ourselves.
